

MEMORANDUM BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OFFICE OF THE COMMISSION AUDITOR

TO: Honorable Chairperson Natacha Seijas and Members, Infrastructure and Land Use

Committee

FROM: Charles Anderson, CPA Commission Auditor

DATE: September 15, 2005

SUBJECT: Equitable Distribution Program (EDP) Report

At your request, we conducted a review of the Equitable Distribution Program (EDP), and we submit the attached report.

We thank Mr. Roger Hernstadt and the staff of the Office of Capital Improvements for their cooperation and assistance throughout the preparation of this report. Please let me know if you need further information.

Executive Summary

The Equitable Distribution Program (EDP) has undergone major changes since its creation. Many of these changes have allowed the program to attain moderate success, but several factors obviate the opportunities for participants to obtain work assignments. Chief among these is the limited number of available projects combined with a large number of pre-qualified firms. Moreover, the competition from Miscellaneous Professional Services Agreements (MPSAs) also hinders the overall success of the program. In order for the EDP to fully succeed, OCI must address these and other areas of concern, continue to streamline the EDP process, provide even greater degree of access to public information, and ensure accuracy of all data.

Program Overview

The EDP was created in June 2001 when the Board of County Commissioners adopted Administrative Order 3-33. The purpose for establishing the EDP was to fairly and equitably distribute Architectural and Engineering (A/E) professional services for all miscellaneous type projects in which construction costs do not exceed the thresholds required by Section 287.055, Florida Statutes. Due to the development of various computer programs, databases, development of the pre-qualification pool, and forms, full implementation of the program did not take place until July 2002 when the first work assignment was made. The EDP is not a minority and/or small business program. Creation of the EDP was to establish ties with firms that did not have any previous work relationship with the County.

The EDP provides work assignment opportunities to firms by employing a rotational selection process. Although presently, the Office of Capital Improvements (OCI) is tasked with overall administration of the EDP², the Department of Business Development (DBD) plays an important role in the pre-qualification of all architectural and engineering firms, technical support for rotational value computations, as well as maintenance of the earnings database, a critical element in the rotational selection process. Over three hundred firms have been part of the EDP since its inception as shown in Table 1 above. In order to participate in the rotational selection process, a firm must meet all Miami-Dade County Pre-Qualification Certification (PQC) criteria which include technical certification, submittal of affirmative action verification and business entity registration. Currently, there are more pre-qualified A/E professionals than EDP work assignments generated by departments.

EDP's Work Assignment Process

The rotational selection process is initiated when a department submits an EDP Request Form to OCI for review. After reviewing the request, OCI utilizes the EDP database (maintained by DBD) to produce the next three available prime firms with technical certification in the areas required for the work assignment, and with the lowest dollars awarded and paid. This list is then relayed to the user department to conduct interviews and select the most qualified as the prime firm. When applicable, the prime will select sub-consultants also from a list of four firms with the lowest awarded and paid dollars.

The EDP's implementing legislation does not provide for a specific formula to determine a firm's ranking in the rotational selection process. Administrative Order 3-39 requires that criteria for ranking be based on the amount of work awarded and paid by the County over the last three years.

The rotational selection process benefits firms with no previous County contracts. This occurs because firms that have performed work with the County within the last three years receive a lower ranking. Each time a new firm with no previous County contract is placed in the pool of participants, firms with previous County experience move downward in ranking. In theory, when new firms receive contracts greater or of equal value, the older firms will move up in the EDP rankings and be considered for awards.

EDP Work Assignment Distribution

A total of 317 firms have met the EDP eligibility requirements since its inception. After issuing its first work assignment in July 2002, the EDP has issued more than 400 prime work assignments to 191 firms. As of August 15, 2005, 102 firms that received an EDP work assignment had no prior work relationship with the County. Table 2 is a current breakdown of the top five percent of active firms in terms of total monetary value of projects. Firms that received the highest number of EDP work assignments are listed in Table 3. Those 15 firms received approximately 20% of all EDP work assignments.

Special Exceptions to EDP

Not all EDP work assignments are made by using the rotational selection process. Administrative Order 3-39 allows special exceptions to the rotational selection process upon written request of the department when it is deemed in the best interest of the County.⁴ A review of the documentation related to special exceptions reveal that in the majority of cases the requested firm has familiarity with that project, is the architect/engineer of record, worked on other phases of a project, etc. OCI grants authority to bypass a firm in the EDP rotation, by granting a special exception, approximately one out of every five EDP work assignments (20%). Between October 2002 and August, approximately 86 special exceptions have been granted by OCI out a total of 403 work assignments.

Administrative Order 3-39 requires that the rational for granting special exceptions be fully documented. Although the majority of special exceptions granted have the relevant request form and supporting memoranda, there are several instances where only a request form is provided and lacking further rational. It is recommended that the requirement to fully document the rational for requesting and granting special exception be strictly adhered to. Similarly, when a special exceptions request is denied and/or modified all documentation should be incorporated.

Three departments account for half of the special exception requests (42): Aviation (17), Parks & Rec. (13), and Public Works (12). Other departments that have requested special exceptions include GSA (7), WASA (7), MDFR (5), Seaport (5), DERM (5), MDT (4), Building Code Compliance (3), CICC (3), Judicial Administration (1), JMH (1), and MPO (1).

OCA recommends OCI place greater emphasis in the documentation of special exceptions requests. In many instances communication between the user departments and OCI, regarding written special exceptions requests, takes place via e-mail. Hard copies of such should be incorporated to ensure full documentation as required by Administrative Order 3-39

Miscellaneous Professional Service Agreements (MPSAs)

Prior to the EDP, MPSAs were utilized to meet the demand for smaller architectural, engineering, landscape architectural, surveying, and mapping projects. Firms that were awarded MPSAs agreed to provide their services until the award amount was fulfilled. Since the inception of the EDP, MPSAs have limited the success of the EDP. The problem arises when projects are assigned to firms using MPSAs with open service orders instead of the EDP rotational selection process even after the MPSAs have expired.⁶ OCI has tried to take steps to balance the use of MPSAs and the EDP; however, MPSAs continue to hinder the availability of EDP work assignments.

⁵ Data covers period between October 2002 and July 2005.

⁶ OCI reports that "as of September 31, 2004, 324 MPSA Non Project Specific Contracts still had open service orders and/or had not expired with over a [$100 [sic] million] in potential service dollars. While a contract may be set to expire, open assignments continue until completion and some departments issue undefined service orders to encumber the maximum contract capacity prior to expiration to be utilized over subsequent years."

Source: OCI memorandum to the County Manager dated June 28, 2005, re: Equitable Distribution Program (EDP) Status Report

- ♦ Currently there are over 200 MPSAs with open service orders with various departments due to remaining contract balances
- ◆ Over 53% (169/317) of EDP participants are listed as having MPSAs as prime firms
- ♦ Although many of these firms may not have received any EDP work assignments it is possible that they obtain work by continued use of MPSAs
- ♦ MPSAs are non-exclusive contracts that do not guarantee firms any dollar amount nor have to be used to their full capacity

Technical Certification Categories

In order to obtain a Pre-Qualification Certification, a firm must become certified in one or more technical categories. The Technical Certification Committee (TCC) is comprised of County staff appointed by the County Manager and is responsible for reviewing and approving the statement of qualifications and performance data submitted by each firm requesting certification and to determine whether the firm is fully qualified to render the required services. The TCC also reviews and has authority to approve departmental needs for the creation of new technical certification categories. Administrative Order 3-39 requires all firms interested in providing professional services for the County must have an active PQC issued by the County through the DBD.

- ♦ There are currently 22 technical categories
- Many of these categories are subdivided into specialized subcategories
- ♦ The total number of categories and subcategories is 85
- ♦ Only 3 subcategories have 3 firms or less listed
 - o 0506 Port & Waterway System Cargo Terminal Equip. Design (3 firms)
 - o 1909 Value Analysis/Life Cycle Costing-Gen Structural (3 firms)
 - o 1920 Value Analysis/Life Cycle Costing-Gen Civil Eng (2 firms)
- ♦ A total of 11 work assignments have been issued to 6 firms in the above-listed categories

Public Access to Information

The stated goals associated with centralization of the County's capital improvement efforts include better public awareness. Administrative Order 3-39 states the importance of responding quickly and accurately to inquiries on project status from the public, elected officials, and other entities. This need exemplified by industry concern regarding public access to the EDP's assignment tables. To address this concern OCI's website includes a section dedicated to the EDP. In this site OCI provides the following information:⁷

♦ Meetings With Industry

o Although A&E meetings are held periodically, only minutes from the February 19, 2005 meeting are posted in the EDP website

o A schedule of future meetings is not available on the EDP website

⁷ The following is an excerpt of the minutes of the A&E Forum that took place on February 19, 2004. "Mr. Roger T. Hernstadt, Capital Improvements Coordinator moderated the session and informed the participants that, CICC responded to the A&E request for public access to the Equitable Distribution Program (EDP) assignment tables. A new internet website is now available to access this information by linking to www.miamidade.gov/cicc."

⁸ The rotational value (RV) is determined by the net dollars (gross prime payments (GP) minus sub payments (SP) paid to a firm in the last 3 years (NP), plus a potential earnings factor from awards. The potential earnings (PE) is determined by adding awards in the last 3 years (A) minus gross prime payments on these awards in the last 3 years times a factor of 65%.

Query-base search capabilities may add a greater degree of access to public information in the EDP website.

Industry Concerns

Through meetings and correspondence, members of the A&E community have voiced concerns to OCI related to several areas of the EDP process and have suggested changes. These areas include the term of pre-qualification certification, access to information, and the complexity of the rotational formula among others. Examples of industry's concerns include the following:

County Departments' Concerns

County departments are essential players in the EDP capital improvements coordination efforts. Departments initiate the process by providing OCI an EDP request. Departments have raised concerns in different areas of the EDP. These areas include project construction costs thresholds, streamlining the selection process, sanctions for firm's non-performance, special exceptions, and technical certification among others. Departmental concerns include the following:

Conclusion

With more than 200 capital improvement projects set to start as part of the Building Better Communities bond program, and projects financed with PTP funds, an efficient EDP could assist in the expedited delivery of A/E services to departments' construction projects. OCI must continue to streamline procedures, examine all elements of the eligibility criteria, as well as study and address areas that limit the EDP's success. This will allow for greater efficiency in the coordination of the County's capital improvement efforts.
